FROM THE DESK OF PRINCIPAL

The National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 marks a significant stride in reshaping the higher education landscape in India, coinciding with the ‘Amrit Kaal’ of the Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav. This transformative policy holds a crucial role in moulding future of the next generation during their Four Years Undergraduate Courses.

NEP 2020 emphasizes multidisciplinary education, allowing students to explore diverse subjects and fostering holistic development. This aligns perfectly with the spirit of the Amrit Mahotsav, celebrating India’s multifaceted heritage. It must be noted that the policy encourages innovation and research, ensuring that undergraduates are equipped with critical thinking skills and problem-solving abilities, vital for nation-building, echoing the Amrit Mahotsav’s focus on progress.

The Four Years Undergraduate Courses under NEP 2020 include internships and experiential learning, bridging the gap between academia and industry, thus contributing to economic growth of the nation. Most importantly, NEP 2020 prioritizes inclusivity, aiming to provide quality education to all, aligning with the vision of an equitable India cherished as per the contemporary requirements. Hence, implementation of NEP 2020 serves the vision of shaping an empowered and progressive India through education, innovation, and inclusivity. In order to cope with the promise of NEP 2020, Karbi Language as AEC is being introduced in the curriculum under Dibrugarh University which is an initiative taken by our college to promote the regional language. As the Principal, I congratulate the team of SAMPHRI for bringing a ray of hope to this goal of blended learning as promised by NEP 2020.

EDITOR'S NOTE

Artificial Intelligence (AI) has ushered in a new era in education, transforming the way of learning and teaching. Its impact is profound, offering personalized learning experiences, efficient administrative tasks, and innovative teaching methodologies. This technology also enables educators to allocate more time in mentoring and addressing the needs of the student. However, AI in education is not free from challenges. One major concern is the potential bias embedded in AI algorithms, which can perpetuate inequalities in educational outcomes. The fear of AI to replace the teacher has sparked debates about the human touch and empathy that educators provide, aspects that machines may struggle to replicate.

In the coming years, striking a balance between harnessing AI’s capabilities and maintaining the essence of human interaction will be a detrimental factor. Educators and policymakers must collaborate to integrate AI responsibly, addressing the challenges while maximizing its potential to revolutionize learning for generations to come. Such integrative approaches to maintain a balanced system will be considered as the true SAMPHRI or the ray of hope for our education system.
